MY FAVORITE FUN

DEAR CHUCK E...

When we arrived, we noticed that the parking lot was extremely packed and found that there was a school fundraiser going on. The place was packed but was under control and the service was excellent under the circumstances. Our food took a little longer to come out than usual, but still in a timely manner I was pleasantly surprised and impressed. But the thing that most impressed me, was that I asked my son to go and ask for some hot sauce. On his way back to the table, another kid ran into him knocking him down and splashing the hot sauce on him. When I went to peek on my son to see how he was doing, I saw him crying and being attended to by a nice man and a very nice employee whose name was Chycon. She was working very hard and yet stopped to care for my son. She graciously explained what happened and offered any assistance. Later, as we sat at our table, Chycon stopped by our table with a cup of tokens. This really impressed me and was very generous considering I was not making a complaint. As a retired corporate retail manager, what impressed me most was that they followed through on something in the midst of an extremely busy unrelenting rush. I realize this may be a company policy given the circumstances, but I know that the customer service and personal kindness reflected by this young lady was excellent and wanted to tell you so. I also am aware that someone had to authorize the gesture so I would give a kudos to the manager in charge at the time. I have seen her on several occasions and she is always very pleasant and hard working. Thank you for another great night!

Me, my wife, and two kids are currently displaced (homeless). Today was my daughter's birthday so we walked in to Chuck E. Cheese to let her play games with the $5 we could spare. We left with my daughter feeling like a princess. The staff seemed to sense our predicament and truly took care of us. My daughter got prizes that substituted as birthday presents. Two people in particular named Keith and Michael, really went out of their way to be thoughtful and courteous. You will never know how much this night has meant to us. You helped us give our daughter the kind of birthday she deserves.
